Foreword

We, the annual staff, present the ninth volume of THE CLEVANA to let you in on the secrets of our days at school. We hope that we have printed the truth and that you will take this book as a token to you from the Senior Class of 1955.

Norman Shuping
Business Manager

Mrs. Genelda Price

We Dedicate - - - -

We, the seniors of 1955, proudly dedicate this, the ninth edition of the Clevana, to Mrs. Genelda Price, our Junior advisor, for devoting her time and talents toward making our Junior year a very successful one; and to our Senior advisor, Mrs. Thelma Bostian, for her unlimited patience and understanding in guiding us through the trials and tribulations of our senior year. May this be a small token of the appreciation and gratitude which we all feel in our hearts, but cannot express in words.

Mrs. Thelma Bostian

Principal

MR. JAMES T. OSBORNE

Our Task

For we, the Seniors, to love every day,
For us to help one find their way,
To ponder o'er our thoughts and pray,
And smile when evening falls,
This is our task.

To follow truth all day long,
To do our best from morn til nite,
To keep our hearts fit for his sight
And answer when he calls . . .
This is our task.

And then we Seniors our Savior we'll meet,
When faith hath made us strong,
And lay our homage at our Master's feet,
Within the golden walls.
For we, the Seniors of 1955,
This crowns our task.

Carol Shoaf, Class Poet

Class Prophecy

"Flight 3 on track 5—leaving for Atlanta, Jacksonville, Miami—" I grabbed my luggage and ran as fast as I could, so as not to miss my plane. I climbed aboard, found a seat, and fastened my safety belt. When I finally caught my breath, I found that the lady sitting next to me looked vaguely familiar. Hesitantly, I began conversation with the usual "Nice weather we are having, isn't it?" In a few minutes I recognized her as being the former Dolores Kepley. She told me that she was on her way to join her husband, who was in the navy in Miami.

Naturally, the conversation went back to the "good ol' days" of 1955. She began telling me what each member of our class was now doing.

Believe-it-or-not, Margaret Roseman is the owner of the big Animal Hospital in Salisbury. Even in her high school days she loved animals, from rabbits with broken legs to ducks that disliked water.

Eleanor Allen and Jimmy Kyles are both acting in small plays on Broadway. They always seemed to enjoy acting but I never thought they would make a career of it.

Wayne Beaver owns his own Super Market, and his store manager is Forrest Lloyd.

Shocking news was that Sarah Brown is now a great research doctor in Chicago. People doubted her becoming a doctor, but when Sarah set her heart to get something, she usually got it.

Annie Laura Hall didn't wear that diamond her senior year for nothing. She is happily married and has two lovely children.

Just about that time, the stewardess came through. Of all people, she was none other than Margie Snyder. She stopped and chatted with us, giving us more news on our former classmates.

Margie told us that Betty Lou Anderson was head nurse at Davis Hospital in Statesville and that Lorene Poteat was a missionary to China. She knew, also, about a few of the boys. Edwin Beeker, Jimmy McIntosh, and Bobby Somers had made careers of the navy.

The gentleman sitting across the aisle suddenly became air sick and Margie had to leave us and make him comfortable.

As Dolores and I counted up the number in our class, we found that we had missed quite a few. Going over the names once again we found a few of them.

Norman Shuping, Doris Graham, now Mrs. Lonnie Owens, and Marie Rumple had made careers of the business world.

Bobby Correll is the owner of the Salisbury ice plant.

Martha Jane Phifer followed in her sister's footsteps and became a telephone operator.

Tommy Thompson is doing well in the dairy business.

Two girls were still missing. Why, of course, how could we forget Carol Shoaf and Lucy Williams! Carol is teaching piano and organ, and Lucy is happily married.

Goodness! How the time does fly when you are enjoying yourself! We had already come to a little town just this side of Miami and the stewardess came through telling us to fasten our safety belts.

When we had landed and Dolores and I got off, we said good-byes, hoping to meet again soon.

I caught a taxi and guess who was driving? None other than Sam Redman. Sam was always so quiet that Dolores and I had almost forgotten him.

As I walked into the lobby of the hotel I was unusually happy that I had once again heard from my classmates of '55. The more I thought about them, the happier I became, just thinking how richly God had blessed each in his own way.

Last Will and Testament

As we turn in our books and bid farewell, we the Senior Class of 1955, hereby declare this to be our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

To the Principal and Teachers

We express our appreciation for their helpfulness and guidance throughout the past years.

ARTICLE II

To the Parents

We leave our undying love, thankfulness, and understanding which made it possible for us to have a fine education.

ARTICLE III

To the Rising Seniors

To the rising Seniors we leave the job of publishing an annual, getting ads, and carrying the title "Dignified Seniors."

ARTICLE IV

To the Individual Students

I, Eleanor Allen, do will and bequeath my ability to laugh and get along with people to Bonnie Plyer, but I am taking my giggles with me so Cleveland School will be rid of them forever.

I, Betty Lou Anderson, do will and bequeath my position on the basketball team to Elaine Dillon and my natural curly hair to Rayford Poteat.

I, Wayne Beaver, do will and bequeath my blond hair to Lester Cannon.

I, Edwin Beeker, do will and bequeath my position as captain of the football team to Nelson Myers.

I, Sarah Brown, do will and bequeath my position under the basketball goal to Sandra Somers.

I, Bobby Correll, do will and bequeath my bus No. 8 to Jimmy Allen and my love to Lois Hamilton.

I, Doris Graham, do will and bequeath my love of school to my sister, Sue.

I, Annie Laura Hall, do will and bequeath my cool temper to Mary Ruth Rumple.

I, Dolores Kepley, do will and bequeath my position on the office staff to Ben Beeker.

I, Jimmy Kyles, do will and bequeath my seniority in Cleveland High School to Delton Barringer, who I believe is going to need it within the next ten years.

I, Forrest Lloyd, do will and bequeath my he-man physique to Larry Kepley.

I, Lorene Poteat, do will and bequeath my love for English to all the boys in the Junior Class.

I, Sam Redman, do will and bequeath my ability to be at school every day to Johnny Hipp.

I, Margaret Roseman, do will and bequeath my position as co-chief cheerleader to Ruby Murphy.

I, Marie Rumple, do will and bequeath my librarian duties to Barbara Koontz.

I, Sue Russell, do will and bequeath my big mouth to Bonnie Plyer.

I, Carol Shoaf, do will and bequeath my place as a Senior to Leon Owens.

I, Norma Shuping, do will and bequeath my bus No. 46 to Nelson Myers.

I, Margie Snyder, do will and bequeath my ability to become a member of the Beta Club to my brother, Louis.

I, Bobby Somers, do leave.

I, Tommy Thompson, do will and bequeath bus No. 21 to George McCoy.

I, Lucy Williams, do will and bequeath my expression, "I'll be glad when Friday comes," to anyone who dislikes school as much as I do.

I, Jimmy McIntosh, do will and bequeath my ability to work math problems to Delton Barringer.

I, Martha Jane Phifer, having nothing to will would like to take everything with me.

AUTOGRAPHS

Almost a quarter of a century has passed since USECO published its first school annual. As we review those pages of yesteryear, a pleasant thought comes to mind—on some tomorrow this, the nineteen hundred and fifty-five edition, will take its place in your heart as a pictorial history of the "good ole' days."

We know this book will increase in value with the passing of each year, and are honored to have played a part in recording it.
